“ Sara Posted on I love wordle .except how do you get it to look at the whole blog? I did one, but it only picekd up the most recent posts (sadly, a lot of those posts are about our friends who recently lost their 17 month old), so the words aren't a good respresentation .

“ My Darling Grandson. I will miss your smile and laughter. I saw that smile on your face and it was comforting to me. I know you are with JESUS and your dad. I will join you someday. We love you with all our hearts.

Love,

Mom-Mom Dot

“ David and i grew up together. His mom and my mom were best friends. And David was my moms God son. I remember going over his house and he was laying on the floor watching seinfeld and eatting spray cheese ad crackers. I didnt want it but he made me try it and was trying to spray it in my mouth and it got all over me and he was laughing so hard! I have great memories of David. His laugh was so contagious! I still remember his voice an laugh. I will forever cherrish the moments we had together as children. He was a great listener, with a huge heart. I thought of him like my best friend and my brother growing up. Even tho he had his ups and downs.... He always found strength. My heart goes out to his family. I love u David. Watch over us. And ill see u when my name is called on the list!

“ Biggs, you will forever live on in my heart and bring a smile to my face everytime I think of all of our adventures and time spent together. You were truly an amazing, funny, happy, one of a kind guy. We are all better for having you in our lives, no matter how brief it was.... You will never be forgotten.. Nanci

“ You will be remembered for your honesty, your outgoing spirit, your drive, the way you got thru some of the toughest situations (that most people couldn't handle on a good day), and the way you could hold a smile through those hardest of times but didn't hold back if the tears had to flow. As a family, we have shared lots of smiles, lots of tears; gotten each other thru some difficult times and shared some pretty happy ones too. Your laugh will always resonate in my mind and in my heart; I can hear it now as I am typing. You gave our family two incredible girls who we can watch (and help) grow into strong, independent women. Thank you for those two. I am sorry that you won't be here to share their experiences and, I have to be honest, a little angry too. This is too soon. I always expected for you to come back one day all grown up, but God has plans that are bigger than our own. I just have to choose whether to be bitter with those plans or to trust them and trust that one day we will all understand. Thank You for always being there for me when I've needed it and for being a part of my life. I thank God for you and I will miss you in this life. I Love You Biggs! XoXo

“ Felix... there are just way too many things to say for this page. I'll carry all our memories and our many secrets to the grave right along side of you. Man we have history... you were like my son/love/bestfriend/brother all wrapped into one and there are very few that will ever understand our bond... the nights we'd all lay on moms pull out bed in the living room and cry about how we needed to change and all the good things we were going to do one day. I am very proud of you very proud of who you became, I know you were finally on the right path finally trying to get it right... it hurts knowing that everyone else won't get to see the amazing guy I always knew you were... I'll love you always Felix. rip...
